My Brother's Keeper

As I watched you pass away,
I felt like God cast me away.
I'm here for a couple of years,
I will shed a million tears.

Just to know I can't chill with you until I die,
it tears me apart, as I watch you play in the sky.
My heart feels cold and dry.
My mind is blank and clear like the morning sky.

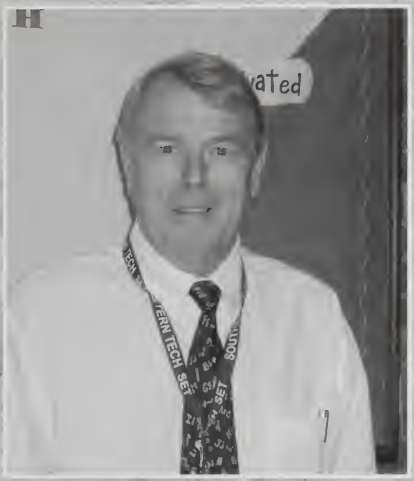
Nothing, but memories,
I just have flash backs,
as you're buried and gone.
You were my brother's keeper
through the heavy storms.

Yes, my brother's keeper,
my brother that showed me love.
When times were hard, you were there to hug.
Now times are hard, so I mourn.
Two of my brother's are now gone.

I will miss you forever on.
Now in my life, it is like a page is torn.
In God's eye another star is born.

Now all I feel is pain that I can't contain.
Too much is bottled up, that I can't tame.
I know we'll meet again, and again will be soon,
through the pearly gates to paradise's room.

My big brother and guardian angel,
he walks with me when I'm up,
carries me when I'm down.
LOVE, LIFE, AND HAPPINESS
MY BROTHER'S KEEPER



JAMES J. HAGER
Superintendent

Congratulations to the Class of 2006

Your high school days, although past, have prepared you for the next chapter of life. Many of you will make an immediate impact in our community as you enter the local workforce, highly skilled and prepared to move into the future. Others will take their Southeastern preparation into post secondary opportunities to expand their knowledge, skills and options. Some will enter the military service to help defend our way of life and insure our freedom and democracy.

There is one more option I hope some of you will consider. Several years from now I would hope to see some from the Class of 2006 return to Southeastern, or a sister vocational-technical school, in the role of a teacher, sharing your skills and knowledge with a new generation of young people.

Life is made up of choices. I hope all of your choices result in rewards and happiness. I'm honored that you chose Southeastern for your education and I am proud to have served you.

Best wishes for all that you choose to do.

James J. Hager, Superintendent

JEROME BURKE
Assistant Superintendent Director/Principal

To the Graduating Class,

Congratulations Class of 2006! Celebrate your twelve year's of diligence and achievement. Celebrate this time with family and friends that supported you and knew you would make it – and celebrate with the brother and sister who weren't so sure.

Perseverance, commitment, and dedication best describes the Class of 2006. Your Class, will always celebrate memories of two Super Bowl wins in a row and a senior prom aboard the Odyssey.

Throughout your school years you built relationships with teachers and students that encouraged you and motivated you – invite them to celebrate your achievement. Celebrate the good and the not so good memories of school years – you have grown from these experiences.

It is my hope that you view your diploma as a platform to build upon for new beginnings and continued successes. I welcome you to revisit your high school in the future and share with the Southeastern Regional Community your accomplishments so together we may celebrate.

This is the only Class of 2006 we will ever enjoy. I salute you!

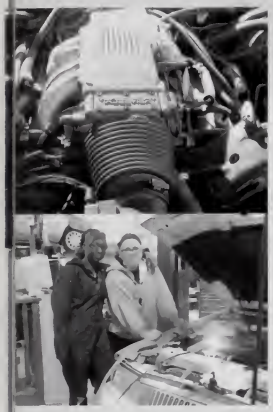
PROGRAM REVIEWS

Advertising and Design

This program teaches advertising art and design. Included are principles of design, layout, color theory, composition, lettering, and illustration. In addition, there is instruction in opaque water color, pen and ink, pencil, marker, airbrush, and photography. Students apply state-of-the-art techniques using Desktop Publishing.

AIR CONDITIONING AND REFRIGERATION

Involves training students in the repair, installation, and maintenance techniques used in the air conditioning, refrigeration, and heating fields. Those procedures consist of soldering, brazing, electrical control wiring, installation, and trouble shooting. Students will become skilled in the installation and service of oil, gas, and electric heating systems.



AUTO REPAIR TECHNOLOGY

Provides training in all phases of automotive maintenance: engine tune-up, brake work, front end alignment, replacement of component parts, drive line service, and engine repair. Students receive comprehensive training in engine diagnostics and repair. Students work with automobile transmissions, electronic ignition systems, and maintenance of automotive computer systems. Graduates are prepared for a diversified job market in the automotive industry.

CABINETMAKING

Instucts students in all facets of cabinet and furniture making. Students develop skills using wood, plastics, and masonite. Joinery of all types and modern gluing methods are taught. After completing the required projects, students can work on projects of their own design. Student projects include bookcases, cabinets, bureaus, and desks.

COLLISION REPAIR TECHNOLOGY

Offers training in the sheet metal repair trade as applied to automobiles and other vehicles. Students learn to straighten, repair, refinish and paint the body, fenders, and exterior panels of a car. Students will also learn to straighten the frame, weld body parts, repair plastic, composite body panels, and replace mechanical and electrical components of the automobile.

Computer Aided Drafting

The program provides opportunities for students to develop an awareness of trends, and requirements for current and emerging careers in computer graphics. The program is centered on the use of industry standards software to create architectural and mechanical drawings and incorporate common CAD concepts. CAD helps students develop problem solving, decision-making and inquiry skills.

Computer Information Technology

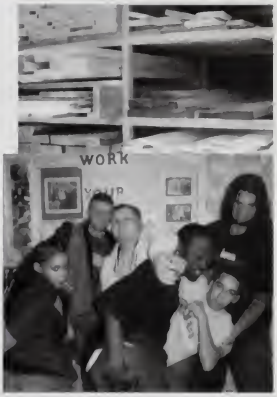
This program prepares students for careers in several technical service fields. The curriculum includes networking, troubleshooting, basic programming, hardware installation and management, and operating system support, among several other components. Students are trained to be sucessful in passing the A+, network+, and Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer exams. Job opportunities in this field include IT consultants, desktop support, managers, software engineers, systems analysts, telecommunications specialists, and database specialists.

Computer Office Technology

This program prepares students for careers in the modern computerized office of today. Students become experienced in computer applications, office technology, personnel relations, and financial information processing. They develop a variety of office management skills through hands-on training and specialized office management simulations. Job opportunities include positions as administrative assistants, secretaries, receptionists, book keepers, and payroll clerks.

CONSTRUCTION TECHNOLOGY

This program instructs students to build and remodel houses. Students learn site preparation, house framing, prefabrication, exterior siding, and finish carpentry. Students work from blueprints using hand and power tools to construct wood frame buildings. Students also contstruct buildings using Computer Aided Drafting. Recent student on-campus projects have included a second House Carpentry Shop and a new 50x80 District Office Building.



Cosmetology

Teaches students hair styling, which includes cutting, shaping, curling, coloring, perming, and scalp treatment. In addition, facials, manicures, and all aspects of make-up application are part of the curriculum. After completing a training period, the students operate an on-campus beauty salon, which is open to the public.

Culinary Arts

Instructs students in cooking, baking and dining room management. In cooking, students plan menus and prepare soups, salads and entrees. In baking, students learn pastry production and cake decorating. Students operate an on-campus kitchen, bakery, and restaurant.

Electricity

Teaches electrical circuitry and its application in residential, commercial, and industrial environments. Students learn the Massachusetts and Federal wiring codes and work with schematics, circuits, wiring methods, motor controls, and job estimates. Students learn the installation, maintenance, and replacement of electrical components. Graduates are prepared to enter apprentice programs to become licensed electricians.

ELECTRONICS

Teaches electronic circuitry and the operation of electronic equipment. Students are required to test, repair and adjust computers, timers, power supplies, electronic controls and digital logic circuitry. Students determine the characteristics of a circuit using signal generators, oscilloscope and other electronic testing devices.

Environmental Technology

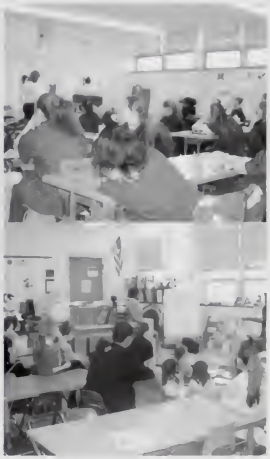
The National Bureau of Labor and the Massachusetts Department of Employment and Training indicate a "higher than average" growth rate for this occupation and related industries through 2020. Environmental protection challenges technology to keep pace with it. This field is truly interdisciplinary, ranging from chemistry and biology through physics to economics, involving people and their environment. This comprises water and waste treatment, air and noise pollution control, solid waste management and conversation. Graduates are prepared for a diversified job market including, but not limited to environmental applications. Students will also have an opportunity to pursue higher education at the Associate and/or Bachelor Degree level.

Graphic Communications

Trains students in all aspects of the graphic arts industry. This training includes computerized typesetting, desktop publishing, electronic prepress, digital photography, film assembly, platemaking, offset printing, and bindery operations. Graduates are prepared to take entry level positions in the field.

Health Service Assistant

Prepares students to work in health related fields. The program provides foundations in child growth and development, geriatrics, and basic nursing skills. Other areas covered are community health and family life education. The health service students will apply classroom theory into practice in a pre-school, nursing home and hospital.



Machine Technology

Teaches students to make metal parts on lathes, milling machines, grinders, and drill presses. Students are taught the use of modern computer-assisted manufacturing techniques and to use blueprints to produce precise components. Graduates are prepared as entry level tool and die makers, machinists, and mold makers.

METAL FABRICATION

Trains students for a variety of jobs in the metal working trades. Students learn oxygen-acetylene welding, arc welding, inert gas processes and resistance welding. CNC, bending, forming, shearing, and rolling machines are used to make projects.

PLUMBING

Develops skills in the use of gas piping, water piping, and installation of fixtures. Students use pipe wrenches, cutters, torches, threading machinery, and general construction tools. These skills are reinforced by trade-related courses in mathematics, theory, and the state Plumbing Code. Graduates are prepared to enter apprentice programs to become licensed plumbers.

Retail and Marketing

Trains students for careers in retail sales and marketing. An in-school store provides the setting for students to learn all phases of the retail business. The program includes the buying, pricing and selling of merchandise, display design, accounting and inventory control. Students are taught computer applications to meet the demands of today's business world.

Back to Back Super Bowl Champions!!!

With a convincing 28-7 victory over the O'Bryant Tigers, the Hawks successfully defended their Division 4 EMass Super Bowl Championship. Since then several members of the team have been recognized for their achievements. The entire Hawks offensive line was recognized as the Player of the Week by the Boston Herald for their efforts during the Super Bowl. Several members of the Hawks were named to the Mayflower League All-Star Team. Brian Andrea, Gary Monteiro, Steve Gaudreau, Ben Jorge, Roger Walker and Dan Clark were voted in and Coach Scaduto was named Coach of the Year for the second consecutive year. Gary Monteiro was recognized by the Boston Globe as the Division 4 Player of the Year.

Hurricanes ravage the Gulf Coast region in the fall of 2005, posing an unprecedented test of the United States federal emergency response efforts. Hundreds of lives are lost and thousands are left homeless in the wake of Category 4 Hurricane Katrina, followed by Rita and Wilma. The tragedy spurs contributions of money, talents, homes, food and more in an attempt to raise spirits and rebuild the area.

RISING FROM THE STORMS

August

25 Hurricane Katrina strikes Florida.

28 Mandatory evacuation of both New Orleans and Mississippi is ordered as Katrina becomes a Category 5 storm in the Gulf of Mexico.

29 Downgraded to a Category 4 storm, Katrina hits land. 1.3 million homes and businesses lose electricity in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. 30 levees are breeched, flooding New Orleans and leaving 100,000 people stranded. After slow government response, civil unrest and looting begins.

31 President Bush surveys the damage.

September

1 30,000 National Guard troops are deployed. Gas prices spike to as high as $5 per gallon.

2 President Bush visits Louisiana and signs a $10.5 billion relief bill. Nearly 154,000 evacuees arrive in Texas.

4 The New Orleans Superdome is evacuated.

6 President Bush and Congress pledge to investigate the flawed disaster response.

9 Government-issued debit cards are distributed to evacuees. The program fails and is ended days later.

12 Michael Brown, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, resigns. Flooding is down to 50 percent in New Orleans.

14 New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin announces a phased repopulation plan.

15 New Orleans begins to reopen. Katrina is named the most destructive hurricane in U.S. history.

20 Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco declares a state of emergency as Hurricane Rita strengthens off the coast.

22 Rita hits the Louisiana coast and heads for Texas.

23 Thousands evacuate eastern Texas and the 9th Ward of New Orleans floods once again after levees are overrun.

October

24 Hurricane Wilma hits southwest Florida.

Homes across the country are opened to families left homeless in the wake of Hurricane Katrina.

Thousands of volunteers help Habitat for Humanity rebuild homes in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Three months after Katrina strikes, the first New Orleans public school reopens on November 28.
